RULING IN INSURANCE CASE.

Benefit Associations May Limit the Authority of Agents.

An opinion handed down yesterday in the United States Court of Appeals in the case of the Modern Woodmen of America against

Laura C. Tevis and H. D. Tevis, defined the by-laws of beneat associations as equivalent to the conditions set out in ordinary insurance policies, and that clerks of lodges are bound by them.

A benefit certificate was issued W. W. Tevis on March 21, 1899. The monthly assessment was due August 1 of the same year, It was not paid promptly, and Tevis died on August 19. The clerk of the lodge to which Tevis belonged had been in the habit of receiving assessments which were as much as twenty days overdue. The bylaws provided positively that certificates lapsed if payments were not promptly made. Judges Sanborn, Thayer and Lochren concurring, the court decided that "benefit associations" may limit the authority of their agents," and, therefore, reversed the decision of the lower court.

The court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of W. O. Johnson against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, an action for damages. Laura C. Tevis and H. D. Tevis, defined Manufacturing plants are now fully occupied. As a rule, the least gratifying reports come from furnaces that cannot secure coke, owing to railway blockades. The transportation problem is becoming serious, as the factor of crop moving is about to be added, and, moreover, much coal must be moved by rail that usually goes to consumers by lake and canal. Iron furnaces are auspending production because coke cannot be secured, and it is evident that the rate of output at the opening of the new month will show a serious low. This scarcity of fuel was expected at the few plants using anthracite coal, but has come as a shock to the coke furnaces, for the Connellaville ovens have steadily maintained weekly production of 20,000 tons. Inadequate railway facilities are responsible and the situation is critical.

Officials of the Iron Mountain Railroad, a Gould property, which controls the outout of almost all of the Arkansas semianthracite mines, state that the present rate made to introduce the Arkansas product into this territory, is not remunerative. They also state that the miners in that section will soon receive an advance of 10 cents a ton, which may mean a further advance in the price of Arkansas coal.

Goulds Control Conl Field. Arkansas semianthracite coal is mined at Eureka, Ouita, Russeilville and other points on the Fort Smith branch of the Iron Mountain, This entire coal territory is controlled by the Gould roads, and the product is removed by no other railroad.

By some of the dealers it is thought that the Iron Mountain makes the advance to increase receipts, and also to cause an immediate purchase for delivery before September 15. Arkansas coal sold at about $6 a ton this time last year. It is now about $7.75, which is 75 cents higher than during the coldest time last winter. It is expected to go above $8 when the new rate goes into effect.

Information to this effect was received from an authoritative source in Washington to-day.

The above intelligence causes considerable surprise in diplomatic circles, for but a few weeks ago it was announced that Mr. Concha, the Colombian Minister, and Mr. Corea, the Nicaraguan Minister, had established an entente cordiale between their respective governments; that bygones were to be regarded as bygones, and that the time was ripe for a satisfactory understanding by the two governments One Point Not Acceded To.

It is now learned that the initial move toward the establishment of an amicable understanding between Nicaragua and Colombia was made by Mr. Corea, who also proposed to Mr. Concha an adjustment of the difficulties which have so long been pending over Colombia's claim to the ownership of a strip of what is claimed by Nicaragua to be part of her coast line. Minister Concha declined to accede to the latter proposition, declaring that a claim which Colombia had brought forward for so many years could not be adjusted, or, in fact, brought to any material degree toward adjustment, by the methods suggested by the Nicaraguan Minister. However, Mr. Concha was entirely willing to join Mr. Corea in the establishment of an entente cordiale

Colombia's Fresh Complaint. Shortly after Minister Corea's arrival in Nicaragua, where he went some weeks ago on a leave of absence, the Colombian officials here, it is stated, received informa tion to the effect that arms and ammunition for the Colombian rebels on the isthmus were being shipped from Corinto. The Colombian Legation here had been receiving reports of this character continually, and, in view of the arrangement effected with the Nicaraguan Minister before he left Washington, Senor Concha lost no time in calling Mr. Corea's attention to the mat-

The latter official replied that President Zelaya would immediately institute an investigation to ascertain if the reports were well founded.

A short time ago, however, more reports were received in Washington to the effect that Nicaragua still continued her material support of the revolutionists on the isthmus, and now Colombia, it is stated, finds her patience exhausted, and has decided to present a formal demand for an explanation. Meanwhile, it is understood the entente

SAVED CALF FROM BUTCHER

Mrs. Dallus Rescued Her Pet After an Exciting Chase.

Mrs. Charles Dallus of No. 3339 McCaus land avenue, Lindenwood, chased a butcher a mile Wednesday to rescue a two-months old calf, that she had sold to a neighbor with the understanding that it was not to Mrs. Dallus is a member of the Golden chain Humane Society, and, as a humani-tarian, believes that calves should be per-mitted to grow up to respectable cowhood and then die a natural death. The butcher wanted to buy the calf for yeal, but she rewanted to buy the calf for yeal, but she refused.

When she sold the calf to a neighbor Wednesday she concluded to watch and see if he carried out his agreement to take it home. Consequently when, a half hour later, she saw the animal loaded into a butcher wagon, she started after it.

The butcher whipped up his horses when he saw her coming, but the humans society member was not to be daunted, and kept running until she caught up with him. Then Mrs. Dalius leaped into the wagon and liberated the juvenile bovine.

The calf, whose name is Flossie, is now browsing peacefully in Mrs. Dalius's front yard.

Blackened Remains Taken From Sand Hill in New Mexico Identified as

Jay Cullings of Rolls. REPUBLIC SPECIAL El Paso, Tex., Aug. 29.-The body found on Monument Mountain at the international boundary line has been identified as that of Jay Cullings, a graduate of the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, from which his widow says he had both mining and civil engineering degrees. It is thought, without doubt, that Cullings was murdered. The body was decapitated, the head being four or five feet from the body, which had four or five feet from the body, which had been partly devoured by coyotes. Two pockets evidenced that they had been cut open with a sharp instrument. His watch and pocketbook were missing.

As stated in yesterday's dispatches, the body was found by two boys, who had strolled up the barren, precipitous mountain, covered over with sand, the lads saw only a single hand, black and bony, pointing upward. They fled and to-day the Sheriff of Donna Ana County, New Mexico, and a Coroner's jury made the ascent of the mountain and identified the remains.

HOME FROM THE PHILIPPINES. Lieut. True Served in Spanish American and Philippine Wars.

Lieutenant William M. True of the Sixteenth United States Infantry passed through St. Louis yesterday on his way from Fort Slocum, N. Y., to Fort Leavenworth, Kas.
